Look out for...

Throughout this guide, you'll find caterers' favourites - products that are the best selling and up and coming ones to watch.

Best seller

These products are everyone's top picks – the must-haves that customers love. Look out for the best seller panel on some of the pages to discover more about these key lines from Walkers, Nescafé, Fairy and more.

One to watch

Which lines are popular right now with caterers loving their quality, flavour and ease of use? These are the ones to watch. Find products from Heinz Bull's-Eye, Violife and other fantastic brands.

Cut single-use plastic

There are lots of simple swaps you can make: use compostable straws and only give them out if asked for; buy loose fruit, veg, meat and fish where you can and wash before use; for takeaways, use paper bags instead of plastic; use compostable clingfilm or sealable tubs; and for high-use and long shelf-life items like pasta, buy in bulk to reduce plastic.

Reduce food waste

- Customers' plate waste? If this is a problem with certain dishes but you're getting good feedback, reduce the portion size.
- Out-of-date waste? Rethink your planning. Get smaller deliveries more frequently and check food for a best before date.
- Leftovers from service? The freezer is your friend or put on lunchtime specials the next day to use up the excesses.

Sustainability: what you can do

From sourcing seasonal veg to using less plastic, here's how you can become more sustainable and cut costs

Source locally and seasonally

Consider buying bread from a local baker, using a local butcher or farmer, or buying cakes and baked goods from a nearby business. It's a big selling point so mention you're buying local in your signage and social media and ask your suppliers to do the same. Cooking seasonally saves money and creates excitement around your menus.

Be mindful with energy

Have you considered getting your gas and electricity from a renewable energy company? The next thing to look at is your usage – are your appliances running as efficiently as possible? Defrost freezers, switch off appliances overnight, and lights, if they're not in use. Next time you upgrade your fridge or freezer, look at one with a better energy rating.

Get your team on board

Your people are key in rolling out sustainable changes. Choose a green champion in your business or ask for nominations. It can be their job to dedicate a bit of time each week or month to looking at how the changes are going and what improvements can be made.

The latest on allergens

Do you know what needs labelling and what doesn't? And how clued up is your team?

Allergen labelling is important – the Food Standards Agency (FSA) has found that around 2.4 million people in the UK have a clinically confirmed food allergy. And many of these allergies will be serious or life-threatening.

Since October 2021, it's been a legal requirement – through Natasha's Law – for food businesses to have clear allergen labelling for prepacked for direct sale foods (PPDS). This covers items such as sandwiches and bakery products made and packed on site. Labelling is needed if:

- the food is presented to the consumer in packaging
- it's packaged before the consumer selects or orders it
- it's packaged at the same place it's sold from.

FIND OUT MORE

Find out if the food you sell is PPDS and needs specific allergen labelling

Train your team

To run a safe kitchen and comply with allergen legislation, ensure you are in the know. Follow these steps:

- ✓ Ensure all team members have adequate training on allergens and it's frequently revisited
- ✓ Nominate a team member on each shift to oversee allergen requests from customers
- ✓ Make sure everyone knows where your allergen information is for all items you sell
- ✓ Train staff on allergen cross-contamination risks, for example, frying items in different oil for gluten-free meals
- ✓ Have procedures in place if you need to use different ingredients to the norm. Who will check the ingredients lists and update allergen information on your products if necessary?

What about takeaways?

Takeaway and food deliveries sold online, by phone or in person are classed as 'distance selling'. Natasha's Law doesn't apply to them, but allergen information must be made available before the purchase is concluded and at the moment of delivery – in writing (website, catalogue or menu) or orally (face-to-face or phone). Takeaway meals should be labelled clearly so customers know which dishes are suitable for those with an allergy.

Be allergen aware

Brush up on the 14 most common causes of allergic reactions

Peanuts

Perhaps the most well-known allergen, peanuts can cause severe reactions. Distinct from other nut allergies, they appear in baked goods, sauces, veggie dishes and more so make sure you let customers know about any cross-contamination risk.

Gluten

Wheat, rye and barley is in bakes, cereals, pasta and sauces but also beer, batters, pie-fillings and spice mixes. Those with an intolerance avoid it but coeliacs can't have food prepared alongside or cooked with gluten products so be extra cautious.

Crustaceans

A seafood family that covers animals with a hard shell and no backbone. Think prawns, shrimp, crab, lobsters and crayfish. Keep an eye out for this common allergen that pops up in pâtés, dips, pastes, fish stocks and even alcohol.

Lupin

Lupin is a legume (or seed) from the garden flower. Unknown to many, it often acts as a plant-protein, fibre supplement and flavour enhancer. Look out for this allergen in bread, pastry, pasta, noodles and even sausages or burgers.

Eggs

Eggs are everywhere: baking mixes, fresh pasta and mayo and they're also used as an emulsifier in ice cream, glazes, crackers and processed meat. Family-friendly venues - take extra note, as they're a common allergen for babies and children.

Milk

Milk is key in many tasty sauces, bakes, soups and puddings as well as the obvious cheese, butter and yogurt. It's not just cow's milk that causes a reaction so double-check labels and ask customers if any alternatives work for them.

Mustard

This condiment adds pep to sauces (also in pre-made ketchup and BBQ), dressings and fillings. Be mindful of the powdered form as a rub for meat too. The allergy is often caused by a reaction between pollen and mustard proteins.

Molluscs

With a hinged shell – clams, mussels, oysters and scallops are a common allergen. In seafood dishes and sauces, they're also a hidden 'fining agent' in some wines and beer. Be smart by checking the label and avoiding cross-contamination.

Fish

Those with a serious fish allergy will avoid the obvious dishes but you also need to be mindful of Asian sauces, Caesar dressing, Worcestershire sauce and certain gelatines. All fish is a risk but it's most commonly salmon and tuna.

Soya

A whopping 60% of pre-made food features soya*, making it tricky to avoid. Read up on labels to track the many uses – flour in cakes, bread and processed food, a plant-protein in veggie products as well as whole beans in Asian dishes.

Celery

This vibrant green vegetable is hidden in lots of products – from the sticks to leaves, spice, salt and seeds – so always check the label. Usually found in sauces and stocks, it's typically the celery root which causes a reaction.

Sulphites

These preservatives make food and drink last longer while preserving colour and flavour. Up to 13% of people with asthma are affected by this allergen*. Check first but you'll likely find them in dried fruit, pickled food, drinks and condiments.

Sesame

Ground sesame or the nutty seeds are used across food manufacturing in biscuits, bagels, cakes, cereals, dips, dressings, snacks, soups, spreads and processed meat or veggie products. Thoroughly check labels – and then check again – to be safe.

Nuts

Tree nut allergy is different to peanuts but kids and adults often have both. The family includes almonds, brazils, cashews, hazelnuts, macadamia, pecans, pistachios, shea and walnuts. Watch out for all products but especially nut spreads, milks and confectionery.

Colman's English Mustard

Colman's English Mustard is a rare blend of white and brown mustard seeds, making it unlike any other mustard. The flavour is exceptionally different and a must-have for your store cupboard. Impressively versatile, it packs dishes with flavour and provides a kick, even in the most unexpected recipes, creating a tangy-yet-hot flavour.

Macphie Nacho Cheese Sauce

Made with real cheddar, its mildly spiced tang is just as at home on nachos, dirty fries and hotdogs as it is in more unexpected dishes like waffles, or as a creamy sauce base for chicken and pasta. The sauce's vibrant colour and great cling means it's perfect for sharing platters and dips. This clever sauce is freeze-thaw stable in application, gluten free and suitable for vegetarians.

Crawford's Mini Packs

Created in Edinburgh in 1813, Crawford's is a well-known producer of high quality biscuits. They are all made with the same skill and care now as they were in the beginning, baked from the small shop in Leith. Crawford's Mini Packs contain different varieties including Bourbon Creams, Ginger Nuts and Shorties. Wrapped in packs of three, they're perfect for Out of Home outlets.

5 tips for seasonal event success

A strong events calendar can keep your venue busy for a whole 12 months. All it takes is a bit of thoughtful planning, promotion and creativity...

1 Know your dates

Get ahead by mapping out key events – Valentine’s Day, Easter weekend, summer gatherings, Halloween, Christmas and more. Don’t forget to add in local festivals and sporting events too. Once you have a calendar, it’s time to plan your menus, and any promotions and marketing in advance. Remember, guests are happy to book early for big occasions, so post on social or add engaging banners to your site well in advance.

2 Build a buzz

Different marketing channels are your secret weapon: email, website, social media, flyers and in-venue displays. Tease upcoming dates with countdowns and exclusive early-bird offers to drive bookings. You could go even further, partnering with influencers or collaborating with popular local suppliers to reach brand new audiences.

Seasonal menus sell

Embrace fresh, seasonal ingredients that bring variety to your menu. Summer barbecues, autumnal feasts or festive roasts with high-quality produce boosts booking-appeal. Limited-time dishes will create urgency to encourage early reservations. Keep promoting any menu changes so your guests are engaged year-round.

3

Set the scene

Atmosphere is everything. Tailor your interiors, lighting and music to match the event. Cosy, candlelit tables for Valentine’s, vibrant beer gardens with sporting flags in summer or glitz and glamour into the festive season. Thoughtful touches like flower bouquets on Mother’s Day or a free Easter egg gives customers an instant gifting experience, boosting repeat business and positive word-of-mouth.

Train your team

A well-trained team will step up the standard of your service, leading to positive reviews and returning customers. Make sure staff know the ingredients like the back of their hand and are prepped with some upselling tips and tricks. Role-play scenarios to build confidence and give them talking points on pairings or promotions.

Lunch lessons

Are your school's meals as balanced as they can be?
Here's the advice on school food standards

Non-dairy protein

Serve one portion every day, one portion of meat or poultry on at least three days each week, oily fish at least once every three weeks and vegetarians should have a portion of non-dairy protein (eggs, tofu, pulses etc.) on three or more days of the week.

High fat, sugar & salt foods

These foods can be high in calories but lack other nutrients. Avoid where possible, making sure you offer no more than two portions of deep-fried, battered or breadcrumb-coated food each week, and no more than two portions of food that includes pastry.

Dairy

Children must be able to drink lower fat milk at least once during the day, and one portion of dairy (yogurt, cheese, milk) should be part of the daily meal plan.

Starchy foods

An essential source of energy and B vitamins, one or more portions need to be served every day. Choose at least three different starchy foods each week (wholegrain bread, pasta and rice are great).

Fruit and veg

High in vitamins, minerals and fibre, fruit and veg are a key part of the menu – serve one or more portions of vegetables or salad as an accompaniment and one or more portions of fruit every day.

Milk

Try these four simple ways to use up excess milk

Brunch dishes
Milk is ideal in all types of pancake batter, thinning it, while adding richness. You can also mix it with eggs and dip brioche in to make a luxurious French toast or simply blend it in a breakfast smoothie.

Time-saving sauce
Whip up a white sauce to save for later. Make a roux, cook out for a few mins before slowly pouring in milk. Add cheese, pesto or mustard and freeze to use in lasagnes, pies or gratins.

Delicious desserts
Leftover milk is perfect for desserts like panna cotta and crème brûlée. Or you could whisk eggs and sugar then add warmed milk and cream to pour over bread and butter pudding.

Roast with the most
Elevate the extras on your roast dinner with excess milk. Use it in Yorkshire pudding batter or add white sauce to cooked, sliced leeks with mustard and cheddar for a cheesy veg side.

Confectionery

Rolo® Millionaire Cheesecake

Serves: 10 Skill rating: MEDIUM

Ingredients

- 75g unsalted butter, melted
- 200g digestive biscuits, finely blitzed
- 280g reduced fat soft cheese
- 200ml whipping cream
- 125g canned caramel
- 70g ROLO® Mini Mix-In Chocolate Pieces

Method

1. Melt the butter in a saucepan over a low heat, then combine with the biscuit crumbs, mixing thoroughly until the mixture resembles wet sand. Press firmly into the base of a lined 18cm springform cake tin, ensuring an even layer. Chill for 30 mins.
2. Beat the soft cheese and whipping cream together using an electric mixer on medium speed until thick and creamy. This should take 2-3 mins. Once thickened, gently fold in the majority of the canned caramel, reserving half a tablespoon for decoration. Ensure the caramel is evenly incorporated without deflating the mixture.
3. Carefully spoon the creamy filling onto the chilled biscuit base, smoothing the surface for an even finish. Drizzle the reserved caramel over the top. Use a toothpick or skewer to create a feathering effect by gently swirling through the caramel.
4. Evenly arrange the ROLO® Mini Mix-In Chocolate Pieces on top of the cheesecake, pressing them lightly into the filling.
5. Cover the cheesecake with plastic wrap and refrigerate for a minimum of 3 hours, although for best results, chill overnight.

Just add a choc bar

What's better than dessert? A dessert with your favourite chocolate bar on top, that's what. Brand collaborations are a big trend in the sweet space and liked by customers, as seen in at least seven of the major high street coffee and restaurant chains. Including iconic confectionery in your desserts can transform an otherwise familiar dish. Try garnishing your best-selling desserts or drinks with a biscuit, chocolate bar or branded dessert ingredient and promote loyalty and customer interest by launching limited edition versions periodically.

Butcher's Guide

Make the most of these meaty cuts to create flavoursome dishes

Beef

Brisket

A well-used tough muscle that's ideal for slow-roasting and smoking.

Chuck

An affordable cut that packs a flavour punch with a good marbling of fat.

Shank

Flavourful but lean with connective tissue – low and slow is a shank's best friend.

Rib

A big section that produces juicy rib-eye steaks plus prime and short ribs.

Tenderloin

Long and lean, this muscle is extremely tender when cooked medium rare.

Sirloin

A moderately-marbled cut from the rear, perfect for grilling or pan searing.

Pork

Head

Use this nose-to-tail cut to make stocks and jelly or a tender pork cheek stew.

Spare ribs

Meatier than belly but fattier than other ribs, soften this cut with braising.

Bacon

A belly cut that can be salt-cured to make a delicious streaky variety.

Hock

Rich in flavour, cook slowly to break down collagen for tender pulled meat.

Lamb

Shoulder

High muscle content makes this meat fatty and flavoursome when stewed.

Loin

Taken from the hind leg, grill or roast the lean meat for a delicate texture.

Leg

One of the leanest lamb cuts that's tasty roasted whole and served pink.

Shank

Slow-cook this deliciously rich cut to achieve a fall-off-the-bone texture.

Chicken

Breast

The most popular white meat with minimal fat, perfect for pan-frying.

Drumstick

Full of juicy dark meat, a bone-in drumstick can carry strong or spicy flavours.

Thigh

A low-cost, tender and rich leg cut that suits frying, baking or slow-cooking.

Garden Peas

Frozen garden peas are the perfect accompaniment to any meal – ideal with fish or to add colour to dishes such as pasta and stews. They can be cooked straight from frozen, using any method. Providing a source of Vitamin C and rich in protein, garden peas are great for the immune system and an 80g serving provides one of the recommended five daily portions of fruit and vegetables.

Fishmonger's Guide

For sublime seafood, get to know your carapace from your caviar

Lobster

Claw

Filled with sweet meat that's perfect fresh, use in a lobster roll or stir through a dish.

Head

White, salty and delicate – use the flesh in sauces and simmer the shell for stocks.

Carapace

Firm with a sweet, briny taste but only a small amount of meat is found here.

Tail

Perhaps the most flavoursome part, simply poach in butter for a showstopper.

Prawn

Head

Packed with nutrients and flavour, simmer the heads for an umami-rich stock.

Tail meat

Peel from the shell to reveal sweet and tender meat that's perfect for any prawn dish.

Tail

Usually removed and discarded, you could try deep-frying for a zero-waste meal.

Fish

Head

A flavour powerhouse that makes concentrated stock or can be roasted whole.

Kama

Tender, sweet and buttery fish cheeks that are perfect pan-fried or grilled.

Abdomen meat

This tender cut can be oily but has a great yield that suits many cooking styles.

Back meat

Typically firm, lean and flaky – excellent for a simple fried or baked fillet.

Caviar

Salty, luxury fish eggs that are often cured for canapés, pasta or as a garnish.

Tail meat

A plump and meaty cut that works well in chunky fishcakes or simply grilled.

Tail

Bony with minimal meat. Great for stocks and broths or deep-fried as a crispy snack.

Crab

Claw

Dark meat with sweet, nutty notes that's ideal with mayonnaise and rich sauces.

White lump

Delicate and flaky, try this meat in salads, crab cakes, canapés or pasta dishes.

Jumbo lump

Prized for its special taste, keep this meat whole in a seafood cocktail or chowder.

Europastry Belgian Double Choc Cookie Pucks

These biscuits are addictive, their soft texture and recipe of tantalising ingredients can be baked to your preference. Great to be consumed on the go or turn into desserts for a sweet treat when needed. The raw dough is made with milk chocolate chunks and chocolate chips.

Pepsi Paloma

Serves: 1 Skill rating: EASY

Ingredients

- Pink salt, for rim
- Lime wedge, for rim
- 50ml tequila
- 50ml pink grapefruit juice
- 12.5ml lime juice
- 12.5ml agave syrup
- 100ml Pepsi MAX
- Pink grapefruit slice, to garnish

Method

1. Pre-prepare a highball glass with a pink salt rim by wiping the rim with a wedge of lime to moisten it and then roll the rim through a dish of pink salt crystals.
2. Add the tequila, grapefruit juice, lime juice and agave to a shaker full with ice and shake.
3. Strain into your highball glass, top up with Pepsi MAX, garnish with a grapefruit slice on a cocktail pick and serve.

Coca-Cola Glass

Coca-Cola arrived in Great Britain in 1900, when Charles Candler brought a jug of syrup with him on a visit to England. Since then Coca-Cola has become one of the world's most recognisable brands. Ideal served over ice as a soft drink or with spirits as a mixer, Coca-Cola is available in a range of variants, including no-calorie and no-sugar as well as flavours such as Coca-Cola Cherry.
